PRIME MINISTER VISITS MONTREAL IN CONNECTION WITH WABANA LABOR

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—An agreement between the old dispute over the Labrador Boundary between Quebec and Newfoundland to the Privy Council has been reached. Hon. R. A. Squires, Premier of Newfoundland, announced here to-day. Squires, who has just returned from London, states he signed the agreement there with Hon. J. C. Doherty, Canadian Minister of Justice. When asked as to his present visit to Montreal Squires said it was in connection with the partial closing down by the N. S. Steel and Coal and the D. I. and S. Co. of their mining operations in Nfld. He said that during his absence, Roy Wolvin and others had visited Nfld. and made arrangements with the government concerning the royalty on ore. He did not know the particulars of this arrangement but presumed it was based upon the supposition that operations would be continued as before and even extended. As a matter of fact they were being curtailed at least fifty per cent. The curtailment taking place shortly after the agreement was signed, and after at least fifteen hundred men had made arrangements for the winter months on the strength of the supposed continuation of the Company operations. The agreement, he said, had not been ratified but he declined to express any opinion as to whether the action of the Company would or would not affect the matter when the contract would come before the legislature. Squires said he had not seen the agreement and did not know its contents. He refused to say whether it had his personal approval or not.

Proceedings of a Most Memorable Convention

Busy Sessions Will Conclude To-night -- Dr. Barnes Speaks on Inter-denominational Education--Rev. Dr. Jones, Rev. Mr. Cotton and Sir William Lloyd Deliver Masterly Addresses on National Issues--Committee Appointed to Make Recommendations re Appointment of Field President--All Delegates United in Their Determination to Sink or Swim With Coaker.

(Special to the Advocate)

PORT UNION, Nov. 27.—Yesterday was another important day for the F. P. U., and Port Union. The Convention sat in the afternoon to consider inter-denominational education, and Dr. Barnes addressed the Convention on that subject. Hon. W. F. Penney delivered an excellent and most interesting and instructive speech on fishery matters in Norway, which was highly appreciated.

A committee of ten, consisting of Messrs. Halfyard, Geo. Jones, James Jones, John Guppy, R. G. Winsor, Job Parsons, Job Wornell, Dugald White, John Beazley and Capt. Geo. Bishop was appointed to consider the President's announcement to provide a field working President and to make recommendations respecting the same. The District Councils of Fogo, Twillingate, Bonavista and Trinity closed their annual meetings yesterday.

Last evening the Convention was addressed by Rev. Mr. Cotton, D.S.O., on matters arising out of the war, that gentleman having served four years with the British army.

Rev. Dr. Jones delivered a magnificent address on the "After effects of the War" from a religious and social aspect. Never did the learned Doctor acquit himself to better advantage. His address was a masterpiece and alone worth attending Convention for. Sir Wm. Lloyd followed in an address of nearly an hour dealing with the "After effects of the war" from the aspect of commerce, finance, the League of Nations and Versailles peace conference. Sir William's address was also a splendid effort and extremely interesting and was much appreciated. Dr. Barnes followed in an able and eloquent address on Education that carried his hearers and aroused intense interest. The 180 delegates expressed their pleasure by hearty cheering the speakers at the close of the meeting, before which a short speech was made by the chairman, Hon. W. F. Coaker.

The National Anthem then brought to a finish the most memorable mass meeting ever held in a Northern District. To-day the Convention meets at 10 a.m. to receive the report of the committee on the address in reply to the President's opening speech. The Convention will spend three sessions discussing this report and close at midnight, when Mr. Coaker and visitors will entrain and proceed to St. John's, which will likely be reached by mid-day Sunday.

The Prohibition Commission has sat two days taking evidence from delegates from all sections of the country. Tonight the Convention will take up the matter of the appointment of a Field President. All are unanimous in asserting that this has been the most interesting and successful of the 12 Conventions of the F. P. U. politically and commercially. All are united in their determination to sink or swim with Coaker.

United States Will Not Remove 'Unknown Warrior' Unemployment Problem In Canada Becomes More Serious Daily

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The United States will not follow the example set by Great Britain and France in removing the body of an unidentified soldier for interment in this country, it was announced to-day by Secretary of War Baker.

Poultry Farm And Garden Helps.

Farms Need Equal Break With Cities

There is but one reason why people leave the farm: They have reasonable hope of bettering their conditions elsewhere. Any one who would not pursue such a hope is to be censured for lack of prudence.

There is but one sure way to get men and women back to the country, and that is to guarantee to farming a return which will make it sufficiently attractive, not entirely in the matter of money, but in all those things that make life worth living.

Country life must be raised out of its monotony. It is not enough that a farmer should be able to make money. His life and the life of his family must be made personally satisfactory. A broad consideration of the problem will show that agriculture must be popularized and put on a higher plane than formerly. There must be better wages—wages that compare favorably with industry. There must be a better distribution of work and working hours, so that they will compare favorably with industry. There must be improved educational advantages, more recreation and amusements; the social side of rural life must receive more attention.

The city has been advertised as a place to live. Newspapers, magazines and books have made it appear to have many advantages over the country. The city is gay and bustling; it is always on dress parade—at least it so appears to the unsophisticated country lad and girl. Youth is attracted by these superficial conditions. There is no such spectacular side to country life. It has to do mainly with fundamentals.

Tremendous progress has been made in the last twenty years in making the farmer's life more attractive; the automobile and machines that take the drudgery out of man-power operations have worked wonders; many of the evils have been eliminated by the experimental work of experts; agricultural colleges and governmental agencies have contributed information and help of untold value. That more progress will still be made is not to be doubted, but, whereas the pay and social advantages of the ruralist have always been many laps behind the city worker, they must be made to keep pace of industry.

Farming must be made as lucrative and satisfying as industry. There should be no barrier between the country and the city. The virtues of both should be freely voiced. There should be freedom of intercourse and a thorough understanding between city and country. One should be just as desirable as the other. And until that time comes the nation will not be assured of its food supply, which is the basic element in every human endeavor.

Laying Ability is Bred Into Flocks

It is a Slow Process of Careful Selection Rather Than a Feeding Problem.

DON'T CARRY WEAKLINGS.

Hens Intended as Breeders Should Not Be Forced With Artificial Lighting.

By H. ARMSTRONG ROBERTS.
The greatest mistake accountable for most failures of big ventures in the poultry industry, is to stock a plant with large numbers of birds whose performances as layers are unknown or doubtful.

The laying power of the hens—their prolificness—is the thing that counts, the thing that makes profits, not mere numbers, which frequently represent nothing but a liability.

No practical manufacturer would think of equipping a big factory with machinery of which he knew nothing, either as to its cost of operation, or whether it would turn out the desired product. Yet many men who would style themselves practical business men have stocked poultry plants with hens with which they were not familiar, and expected sure-fire results.

To start small and extend only as you develop the "stuff" with which to enlarge is the only sure path to success in the poultry game. The term "stuff" in this instance means experience as well as stock. One is quite as important as the other.

Heavy Laying Means Breeding.
Heavy laying ability cannot be obtained over night, nor in a month's time. It is not a matter of feeding alone, nor of good management, though these factors count for a great deal. Heavy laying is a product of many years of careful breeding. Usually it is a slow building-up process.

The flesh of the guinea is of excellent flavor, resembling the pheasant. The body is about the size of the leg-horn, but more plump and better proportioned for meat purposes. It is unnecessary to fatten guineas before slaughtering them. Ordinary feeding maintains them in prime condition.

Give lice and other vermin half a chance and they will defeat the best laid plans. It is difficult (almost impossible) to exterminate them completely, but it is not much trouble to hold them in control with the aid of insecticides.

The flock of hens that is afraid of the caretaker will do little toward showing a profit. And the trouble is with the caretaker, not with the hens. Don't permit the flock to live in a semi-wild state. Don't frighten the birds. Don't allow them to be disturbed constantly by children, animals or other conditions. Treat them with consideration—gently. Make pets of them. Leastways make them feel at home. They will respond to kindness. Their capacity to comprehend sympathy or apathy was brought in from the jungle centuries ago.

The Asiatic breeds, such as Langshans, Cochins and Brahmas, cannot be reckoned as good foragers. Even when they have wide range they show little tendency to wander far from home. They are intensely domestic. For this reason they must be fed regularly, and upon rations which are not too fattening.

Brahmas Make Good Capons.

None of these heavy breeds can be recommended as heavy layers. They are more useful as meat producers. Brahmas are widely used for soft roasters and capons. If the pullets can be made to mature before cold weather sets in they are fair winter layers, but this is not so easily done, because they require from eight to ten months to reach maturity, sometimes longer, whereas the lightweight breeds such as the Leghorns, mature in from five to six months.

A reliable index to the productive ability of a pullet is the time at which laying is begun. The prolific pullet starts production early, as soon as she attains her full development.

Among other occupations which may be associated advantageously with poultry are bee-keeping and fruit-raising. Poultry benefit orchards, and there is no better range for fowls than a grove of fruit trees. Fruit blossoms provide a rich harvest for the bees, and these busy little creatures carry pollen from blossom to blossom and thus benefit the fruit. All three enterprises may be dovetailed into each other, as it were, run with the same labor, sharing expenses and maintaining the balance of production. Their relations are thoroughly reciprocal.

Many poultry raisers, ambitious to have a large flock of pullets, cannot bring themselves to discard a single bird. This is one of the most common and costly mistakes in the business. It constitutes a burden which few growers can carry for any length of time. It has caused many failures. It is comparable to the manufacturer who pays $10 a day for the operation of a machine which turns out $7 worth of products.

It is just as essential to cull the pullets as they are put in the laying house as after they have started laying. In the average flock of young chickens about one-fourth of the females are not worth keeping as layers. Most of these will lay at some time or other, of course, but their laying will not prove profitable.

Most Runts are Worthless.
It is not possible to segregate all of this one-fourth of the flock in advance

HOW YOU CAN TELL GENUINE ASPIRIN

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Aspirin—No others!

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, refuse them—they are not Aspirin at all.

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"—all other tablets are only acid imitations. Look for the "Bayer Cross". Then it is real Aspirin, for which there is no substitute.

Aspirin is not German but is made in America, and is owned by an American Company, all rights being purchased from the U. S. Government. Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger "Bayer" packages, can be had at any drug store.

Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland registration No. 761), of Bayer Manufacturing Co. Monoacetic acid ester of Salicylic acid.
The Bayer Co., Inc., U.S.A.

of laying; not even after the commencement of laying; but it is possible to detect the runts, cripples, mental defectives—there are such in poultrydom—and specimens in poor health. These culls represent an investment. It pays to salvage as much of this investment as possible now. Don't throw good money after bad in the hope that these culls will come around later. Very few do.

Convenient, roomy nests, sufficient straw or other nesting material in the nests, and nests that are located in semi-darkness are the best preventatives of egg-eating.

This habit is usually started accidentally. Eggs are broken, the fowl's curiosity is aroused; she tastes the spilled contents of the eggs, they are appetizing, other hens are attracted to the feast—the habit is formed. Subsequently, not only broken eggs are eaten, but sound eggs are pecked and devoured.

Crooked breastbones are the result of malnutrition at some period of growth, or lack of constitutional vigor, or not the result of early roosting, as some think.

Nest eggs can be made of plaster of Paris. They are more natural than china eggs. Wooden nest eggs are also useful.

Thin shelled eggs and soft shelled eggs usually indicate a lack of mineral matter in the food—lime and such—Sometimes these defective eggs are laid by hens which are closely confined, without sufficient exercise and overeat. Keep oyster shells before the flock at all times, also plenty of sharp grit. Bran furnishes mineral substances.

Signs of Poor Physical Condition.

The actions and movements of fowls are a reliable guide to their physical condition. The weak bird in inactive, dull, listless, more inclined to loaf than to work. It seldom scratches for food and does not forage to any extent. It pecks at things indifferently, moves slowly, frequently awkwardly.

In young chickens this weakness is usually accompanied by slow feathering, drooping wings and head, a crow-like beak, thin legs and thighs, narrow head, slovenly plumage and a shiftless carriage. The reverse is true of the vigorous specimen.

The loudness and frequency of the crow of the male, and the cackle of the female, are signs of vigor. Weak fowls seldom crow or sing. If they do, it is in a casual sort of way.

The weak male is rarely a fighter or a leader. As a rule, he is cowardly and keeps to himself. Husky cockerels the sort that are needed to head the breeding pens, are exceedingly precocious at a very early age.

The use of immature pullets for breeding purposes, or pullets which have been forced for egg production during the winter months, is a common cause of low-producing progeny and weaklings. Hens that have completed a laying season, molted and enjoyed a rest and recuperative spell while so molting, are the best breeders.

Artificial lights in the poultry house which is the equivalent to forced feeding, should not be used in connection with hens intended for breeding purposes, or, if they are used, they should not be started before the first of January. The hens require several months to regain their body weight which was taxed by the previous season's laying and molting, before they qualify to lay eggs which will hatch strong, livable chicks. The hen cannot burn the candle at both ends any more than we humans can do so, and make it pay.

Says Wholesale Cut In Wages Is Not The Solution

Would Curtail Purchasing Power of Workers.

(Hamilton Spectator.)

That the term closed shop is misleading and shouldn't be used by organized labor men and women was an opinion expressed this morning in an interview by Tom Moore, of Ottawa, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. "It is not the practice," he said, "to say that a theatre or picture house in a closed place, although admission to it is conditional in you paying the price fixed and abiding by the conditions of entry. Union shop is the desirable term, instead of closed shop, as it provides for union employees and men with the qualifications who will pay the union initiation and fee and the dues are eligible—therefore, it is not a closed shop in the general acceptance of the term."

In regard to the statement which appeared in Saturday's press to the effect that one big Montreal shoe firm had decided that there must be a cut in wages and an open shop, he stated that the union had an agreement covering both these matters which doesn't expire for five months yet. He expressed pleasure at the statement that the McPherson Shoe Company here had decided to run on reduced time, instead of laying off a portion of its staff, to meet the present conditions

A PROVERB

BY WALTER WELLMAN

Mamie, while looking into a bakery window, sees several funny signs. Finally she makes them out, one by one, and finds that each picture represents a word. The seven words, taken in the right order form a well known proverb. What is it?

Answer to yesterday's puzzle:

which he termed under consumption. "There is no slackening up in sales and demand for goods on account of inflated money and inflated values, limiting the purchasing power of the workers," he said; "there has been no over-production either in the United States and Canada. The proposition of some manufacturing concerns to make wholesale reductions in wages will only aggravate the trouble if put into effect to any extent, but further curtailing the purchasing power of the workers and still further reducing wages."

"That circle would be just as vicious as the one recently completed by advancing the price of commodities at a faster rate than the advancing of pay for labor."

He stated that Samuel Gompers had secured figures in certain lines, showing that labor costs at the present scale of finished products amounted to about one-seventh.

"Yet," he said, "some manufacturers would have us believe that it is necessary to reduce labor costs to reduce selling prices. The selling prices in

BURNING THE BRITISH FLAG IN NEW YORK

First Doctors Then A Skin Specialist Then A Bottle of D.D.D.

I will consider it a favor if you will allow me to add my testimonial to the many hundreds you no doubt have in praise of the great results effected by the D. D. D. Prescription. I was a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried three or four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I got tired of trying their remedies. I then went to a skin specialist but he was no better than they. I was reading the Sunday paper and happened to see your ad. I am very glad that I did.

I secured a trial bottle of D. D. D. and it did me so much good that I sent for a dollar bottle, also a cake of soap. That is all I used, and I am perfectly well. I have advised several others to use it and the results have been the same. You are at liberty to use my name for I consider D. D. D. the best remedy in use.

easy in this country.

That such indignities to the British standard in New York are dismissed on both sides of the water as nothing more than manifestations of Sinn Féin violence may be natural enough, but the fact is nevertheless to our discredit. Although policemen always appear to be near the scene of these outrages, they fail, through fear or sympathy to exert their authority. To stage a riot with impunity here our hoodlums need only to give it an anti-British aspect.

Most of our people will fail to perceive the valor or the utility of such performances. If that is the way the Sinn Féiners fight England, it is the safest kind of warfare ever invented. If that is the way patriots 3,000 miles from the spot where they might get their heads broken think they are going to free Ireland, their delusion is an ridiculous as their mock heroes. The fact is that these marauders are neither good Irishmen nor good Americans. They ought to be rounded up and made feel the weight of the law.

"My! How I did used to dread having the Threshers come—but I don't mind now."

"WHY, a year ago I could no more think of cooking a big dinner than I could fly."

"I did not seem to have any strength then, and a little extra work or excitement would use me up for a week."

"The doctor said my nerves were weak and that I had nervous prostration. I certainly was nervous and irritable. I was always worrying about something."

"It all looks very foolish now. But that is just the difference between being weak and strong."

"Why didn't every woman use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when she gets run-down in health?"

"But I suppose they do not all know about it or do not realize that it will do for them. Then perhaps some of them do not use it long enough to build up their exhausted nervous systems."

"One thing sure, the women of this community will know all about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for they know how miserable I was, and I will see that they know what I used to make me well.

"I certainly did get into a terribly run-down condition, but no one would believe it to see me now since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can now take a real pleasure in life and its activities."

"And why shouldn't I? I sleep like a top, enjoy my meals and get outdoors where the fresh air and sunshine help to keep me feeling fine."

"I don't believe people appreciate good health until they have been sick for a time. I am sure that I did not. The credit for my splendid health now is undoubtedly due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I want every woman to know it."

Crop Report of Season Issued At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—The total yield for Canada of turnips and other roots is estimated by the bureau of census and statistics as 144,081,000 bushels from 293,286 acres in 1920, as compared with 112,286,600 bushels from 317,296 acres in 1919. The yield of hay and clover this year is below that of 1919. The total in 1919 is estimated at 12,378,800 tons from 10,595,383 acres. Alfalfa yields 618,700 tons from 238,556 acres this year as against 494,200 tons from 226,869 acres.

The total yield of sugar beets of 314,000 tons from 26,288 acres against 240,000 tons from 24,500 acres in 1919. Fodder corn yields 5,404,000 tons from 588,977 acres.

The total area under root and fodder crops including potatoes, turnips, etc., hay and clover, alfalfa fodder, corn and sugar beets amounted to 12,317,943 acres as compared with 12,494,584 acres in 1919.

The total value of these crops at local prices paid to farmers amounts in 1920 to $584,634,500 against $560,151,800 for 1919.

GOOD ADVICE

If you have a little cough, Cure it now, don't put it off. Go right into the UNION STORE. Get one bottle, you won't need more. Of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed. That's the very thing you need. It cures a cough, or even a cold. Quicker than anything that's sold. It's wise to get a bottle to-day. If you haven't a cough, to-morrow you may. So don't forget, or put it off. For consumption is often caused by a cough.

BELL ISLAND COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTION

Island Citizens hold Interesting Civic Election. Twenty candidates enter. Six elected.

The Bell Island County Council Election took place on Wednesday last at Bell Island. The Election being conducted by Magistrate P. E. Power as Returning Officer with Mr. F. F. Jardine J.P. as the Deputy and Sergeant Sheppard and Mr. Eugene Reese as assistants. Mr. Power presided over the Bell Island Booth and Mr. Jardine over the Lance Cove and Freshwater Booth. Herewith we append the list of the newly Elected Council:—

Mr. Edward Bennett,	166
Mr. Peter Kent,	141
Mr. Ananias Reese,	139
Mr. James L. Connors,	119
Mr. John Cramm,	114
Dr. H. A. Giovannetti,	106
Mr. James Flynn,	106

Messrs Peter Kent, Dr. Giovannetti and Mr. Ananias Reese being three of the old Council who were re-elected. All of whom are experienced and energetic workers. Mr. Bennett re-entered the arena of Civic affairs after an absence of several years and headed the Poll with a large majority showing the popularity he represents. Messrs. Cramm, James Connors, and Flynn are all new to the Council Board but being young men of no mean ability much is expected of them. The advent of Mr. Connors to the Board brings back the past when his father Mr. John Connors the popular Supt. of the Scotia Pier was one of the most prominent Councillors at the Board. Dr. Giovannetti J.P. was the Presiding Officer at the Wabana election and consequently took no part in the canvas. His vote is therefore to be judged as a tribute to his work in the past particularly in the re-building of the famous "Fancy-Hill." Of Mr. Reese just filled part term on the late Board much is expected. Mr. Reese served several years as President of the Board of Directors of the Bell Island Co-operative Company Ltd. the largest commercial business on the island; while his energy and activity is well known to all on the works. With such material comprising the new Board; many improvements should be forthcoming for Bell Island.

—Cor.—

Mr Peter Kent is a brother of Councillor R. T. Kent Secy-Treas. of the Mines Council. Mr. Kent occupies a most responsible position on the Staff of the Scotia Co. being Chief Electrician; while Mr. John Cramm conducts a business at the Mines.

WABANA COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTION

The Election of Members to serve on the Wabana County Council for the next three years was held at the Court House on Wednesday past. Dr. H. A. Giovannetti J.P. presiding assisted by Mr. Wm. John Martin. The vote was the heaviest ever polled at the Mining Centre; and keen interest was manifested in the result. Representatives of all spheres of life presented themselves to the Electorate for endorsement including Merchants, Officials of the Company. Foreman. Labor representatives and Mr. J. P. Burke of the Imperial Life Assurance Co. Mr. Burke who was chairman of the retiring Council for the past three years easily lead the Poll and scored the largest majority of votes; while Mr. Richard T. Kent who is the oldest Councillor on the Island having been elected on every Board since the inauguration of the local Council some ten years ago came back stronger than ever showing that his work in the past was appreciated and endorsed. The Three newly elected Councillors Messrs Stephen Blackmore, Edward Ryan and Richard Bugden bring with them to the Council Board both energy and ability. Mr. Blackmore is one of the leading Mining Officials on the Island having worked his way up from the bottom and his presence on this Council will bring to the Board another practical man who both knows how to get a good job done and how to do it. Mr. Edward Ryan is one of the rising young men of the Mines and although being of a retiring disposition and conducting no aggressive campaign his vote shows the good will of his fellow-workers that he possesses. Mr. Richard Bugden who concludes the list of the new Board is a young man of wonderful energy. He is President and Assistant-Manager of the newly formed Workmans Co-operative Store and will no doubt prove himself the Workingman's friend on the Council. The new Council has an extensive Manifest to fulfill. The immediate and particular plank the fulfillment of which the Electors in no uncertain manner endorsed by the election of the above Candidates being Street Lighting for the Mines Area. We feel sure that when this is brought to the attention of the Government and the Members for the District that it will not be long before it becomes a reality. Chairman Burke has in no mistaken manner been endorsed in his position and there will be no doubt but that if he puts the same vim, energy and enthusiasm in his work as he put in the campaign; that many improvements are in store for Wabana.

Herewith we append the result of the Poll, which opened at 9 a.m. and closed at 9 p.m. Checking and Counting began immediately and the result was announced before Midnight:—

Joseph P. Burke,	257
Stephen Blackmore,	227
Michael J. McNeil,	224
Richard Kent,	187
Edward J. Ryan,	183
Richard Bugden,	167

The above comprise the elected Council. The rest of the candidates polled as follows:—

Thomas Conway,	159
James J. Tucker,	145
Patrick Sweeney,	137
Albert Bursey,	130
Henry M. Stairs,	92
Henry Mercer,	96
John A. Hughes,	49

Financial Stability

(Trade Review.)

Newfoundland this year has faced one of the most depressing periods in her history, but there is every reason to believe that she will weather the storm successfully and be placed on a firmer basis of financial stability than ever.

The whole industrial world to-day is suffering from the natural reaction consequent on readjustment to a peace basis. The larger nations are a seething foment of industrial and commercial unrest. Failures on a large scale are common reports; strikes and lockouts are of daily occurrences, restrictions of credits and calling in of loans by the banks are world-wide, and from all sources come painful reminders that the cost of living is not to be lowered without a certain amount of financial distress.

Messrs. R. G. Dun & Co. reported commercial failures in the United States for the first week of November as 250 against 233 for the previous week and 128 for the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada numbered 48 against 19 for the previous week and 15 for the corresponding week last year.

In Newfoundland Mercantile circles there has been few failures of any magnitude. Water Street, which is the financial backbone of the country, it is reported, will weather the depression period successfully, and is already making preparations for renewed activity the coming year. No doubt, some heavy losses will be sustained, but there is every indication that the financial position of Newfoundland's commercial establishments are sound and with fish selling on the basis of $8.00 for Labrador, the fishermen will be able to square their accounts and tide over the winter.

What makes it so hard on the fishermen this year, is the fact that prices did not begin to slump until this fall. When they took out supplies in the spring everything was at topnotch price, and they consequently had had to bear their share of the burden which would have been otherwise had prices tumbled before they took their supplies.

It is perhaps fortunate for the mercantile community and the country generally, that such is the case as had the burden of falling prices been borne by the merchants alone, a different tale might have had to be told of the stability of some of the supplying firms.

With cheaper prices for supplies in the spring there is every reason to look forward with hope and confidence to the coming year. Fishermen will be able to make their purchases at a price which will be from 30 to 50 per cent. lower than this year, and even if the fish drops a little below present prices, there would be sufficient margin to allow for fair returns to the fisherman on their investment.

The F. P. U. Convention and Progressive Policy

As usual the "Daily News" is much concerned about the speech of President Coaker at the F. P. U. Convention. Every year Mr. Coaker never fails to enliven his address with some progressive suggestions which raise the "dander" of his opponents and make them "warn the country" about this man Coaker. For twelve years this has been going on, and the F. P. U. is still enlarging its borders and adding industrial enterprises to the Fishermen's Town and still the country is safe and sound.

If Mr. Coaker were satisfied to go on in the old rut, he would to-day probably only have a scattered Union Store and a Hall or two and be depending on the stock-in-trade of the ordinary politician, which is "hot air"! But he is not built that way, and no one can say that his words have not been translated into actions, and that he has more to show for his 12 years work than any politician in Newfoundland before.

So that when Mr. Coaker speaks of the greater expansion of Port Union, the recreation of more industries, and a progressive policy all round, he means what he says, and it is a great relief to find that here is one man who does not believe in talking of business depression and putting up a poor mouth. He has a supreme belief in the country and its ability to come out of the present crisis in good shape. It is really pitiful that this little Island is probably the only spot on the Globe to-day where there are newspapers which delight to draw attention to bad times, delight to depress industry and at the same time, maliciously and falsely blame the Government of the day for it all. These papers can read what is happening in other countries; they can read of the hundreds of failures in America and Canada; they can read of the hundreds of thousands of men who are out of employment in these countries, of the half million out of work in England, and the millions in Europe. They can read of the failures in the United States because the price of wheat has been lowered to such a figure that it does not pay the farmers to produce it.

The outlook here shows almost a Paradise compared with other countries. We do not say that times could not be better, but we must consider our position in comparison with the rest of the world.

Here we have a Government which has kept the price of fish up while every other commodity has been declining.

If fish had been allowed to slump, there would have been a financial crisis here long before this, and conditions would have been ten times as bad as they are. If the fishermen could not have obtained a fair price for their fish, every man, woman and child in the Island would have felt the result and bankruptcy would follow.

Mr. Coaker never did a better day's work than last week when he called the bluff of the Tory Exporters, showed the fishermen exactly what men of straw they were, and then said: "I will arrange to get you eight dollars for your Labrador fish." It is no wonder that his name rang from one end of the country to the other because he brought order out of the chaos which the Tory newspapers caused by their depressing articles. There is hope for a country when there are such men as Coaker.

REPORT SLUMP IN FISH CATCH

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—A slump in both the quantity and value of fish landed during September on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts, as compared with September, 1919, is reported by the fisheries branch here. There were 1,157,870 cwt. of sea fish, landed in September, 1920, against 1,429,160 cwt. in September, 1919. The value of the catch at the point of landing was $3,581,567 in September, 1920, and $6,113,723 in September last year. The decrease in quantity landed and in the value is attributed to the falling off of 108,000 cwt. in the aggregate catch of cod, haddock, hake and pollock, and of 145,000 cwt. in the salmon catch.

Business men who want profitable results advertise in THE ADVOCATE.

Thanks Coaker for Price Given for Fish

(To the Editor)

Dear Sir,—Will you please give me a little space in your much esteemed paper to make a few remarks. While listening and reading a little concerning our fish matters there are many things that I would like to say, but I will be brief.

When we got our fish ready to dispose of there was not a merchant who would give us a price. We waited day by day for prices, while Port Union and Bonavista stores were giving out their prices. But when we began to take our fish to Port Union and Bonavista, they coughed up a price! Who do we thank for the prices that we obtained? Why, sir, it was Hon. W. F. Coaker. When a person is forced to do a thing no thanks are due for it. And yet there are fishermen who are led away with the idea that they would be just as well without Coaker, or the Union. My brother fishermen, what they did in our father's day they would do to-day; I don't want to tell you. You can only look back.

Now Mr. Editor there is that fellow Morine. I say, sir, that the fishermen that called on Morine to help them could not have understood what they were doing. We have had enough of that fellow. We know what he is after—a good job! What did he do for the fishermen when the fish was $2.40 per qtl.? He had the chance. Why not start a Union and do as much as Coaker, build a city like Port Union? Then I would say: "Go on, Morine." What is the reason this gentleman can't go back to his own country and not use his oily tongue in Newfoundland. Fishermen; let us keep our eyes open.

Now sir there is Uncle Abe Kean. What did he do for the fishermen? He is getting an old man now; it's better for him to be thinking about the next world than shouting against Mr. Coaker. Come, Uncle, you should be seen and not heard. Now there is the Tory gang with their shouting, what did they do for the fishermen? We know what they are after—they are office seekers. They care as much about the fishermen as I care about the wild animals in our forests. They remind me of a dog that will stand off and "yop yop."

Now there is the person that signed himself "Once a Union Man" in one of the rag papers. He ought to be ashamed of himself. Come out like a man, sign your own name, not as a coward.

Who was it that changed sealers' conditions from a jail to boarding houses? Who was it that changed the conditions in our lumbering camps? Was it the bunch that I speak of above? No, no, it was Hon. W. F. Coaker, the man that has brought this dear old Newfoundland clear of all the breakers.

Now, we fishermen, let us stand together; never let us go back on our Union. I am a Union man. If the Union goes, I would pack up and leave Newfoundland. Go on, Mr. Coaker, we are at your back.

Thanking you for space,
I remain,
WILLIAM TUCKER.
Elliston, Nov. 22, 1920.

THE FISH SITUATION

Despite the snow flurries considerable fish is being handled along the water front to-day. It is now realized that the catch will be considerably short, and in course of a couple of weeks it will not be a question of the fishermen not being able to dispose of their fish, but there will be very little fish to purchase. Day by day the country generally is beginning to realize the benefits of the herculean fight made by Mr. Coaker to prevent the Ragnoli ring from stampeding the fishermen, the plan to get all the fish possible in St. John's harbor early in November. What was hatched by those Tory desperados has failed ignominiously, had it succeeded, the object was to so lie to the fishermen that they would sacrifice their catch at any price. The day before the Coaker meeting in the C.C.C. Hall we know of men who were trying to sell their Labrador for $4.00 and had offered a broker anything over that figure. This same man who by the way was strongly anti-Coaker sold his fish on Monday last for $8.00. His conversion has been rapid and complete.

Won't be Enough Shore to go Around

"Shore fish is safe as far as marketing abroad is concerned" said a leading exporter to the Trade Review yesterday. There will not be enough to go around in all foreign markets between now and April next. Brazil, Spain and Portugal will require it all and there is a reasonable prospect that the price and the demand will improve before Lent, and that the stores will be clean of this quality much earlier next Spring than ever before. There is no risk then in stocking up Shore Fish."

THE FIRST BIG FRUITS OF TORY RUINIST PROPAGANDA

Yesterday R. Moulton, Ltd., of Burgeo, the leading firm in the District of Burgeo which 231 James sought to represent in the House of Assembly, announced that they were compelled to lose their doors and go into voluntary liquidation. There we have with a vengeance the first fruits of that campaign of misrepresentation, pessimism, and the low-down political and vindictive writings, such as have filled the columns of the Telegram, Herald and Daily News almost daily since the general election a year ago. Recently it was suggested through the columns of this paper that these rabid destructionists be "locked up." That suggestion met with almost universal approval by every true Newfoundland, who loves this land and abhors to see her defamed and made little of to the outside world. But aside from that spirit of love of country which should permeate every loyal citizen, there develops upon us the bounden duty to assist in every way possible to maintain our financial status both at home and abroad. Repeated warnings failed to check the insatiable appetite for revenge which the Tory destructionists have cultivated. As a natural consequence of this hellish campaign James, Currie and McGrath have a toothsome morsel for their political breakfast this morning. With goulash glee, veneered with the crocodile tears of the poisonous reptile, which having stuck its fangs into an innocent victim, darts to cover only to appear again for a renewal of its attack when opportunity offers, we have the ruinists to-day expressing regret; too late now that the blow has fallen. Sir P. T. McGrath dealing with the situation yesterday cunningly observes:—

"Interest to-day in mercantile centers along Water Street is absorbed entirely with the news of the liquidation of the three outport fishing firms, the facts of whose suspension are told elsewhere in this issue. It is stated that in each case the firm has been forced into liquidation, not by pressure from local creditors, but by pressure from outside ones, as the disposition of local concerns is to give every leeway to firms temporarily embarrassed so as to prevent the chances of the area of financial disorder being greatly increased. The view amongst the mercantile community to-day is that once the winding up of firms begins here it is difficult to know where the process will stop, and there is very keen apprehension along the street as to what is going to be the outcome of all this financial disturbance."

"A leading exporter expressed the view to-day that people should keep their heads and avoid giving way to panic, for he says that the situation is very grave and that things have got to get much worse before they can get better, &c."

(McGrath says his "informant" is not an active politician—Of course not!—Sir P. T. has again been interviewing himself—An old worn out stunt of his—Please try something else). The public are wise to this form of cooked information, stewed in the fertile brain of the Herald editor. As if not satisfied with the harvest of commercial debris the Tory destructionists are so anxious to gather they predict that other well known business men and firms are face to face with difficulties—well then ye would be wreckers of home and country more fruits of victory await you—keep on and perhaps in the not remote future as birds of prey in human form ye will be decorated with full plumage consisting of a well garished carcass of tar feathers.

CLAIMS LLOYD GEORGE HAS NO PARALLEL A.R. JONES OUTLINES PREMIER'S BRILLIANT CAREER

(Canadian Paper)

"To speak of Lloyd George and principles in one breath would, to some people seem a contradiction," declared A. R. Jones, of the Garden City Press, Bellevue, speaking at the Electrical Luncheon held yesterday in Freeman's. Mr. Jones took as his subject: "The Moving Spirit of Lloyd George. The largest figure in the world to-day," said the speaker, "was undoubtedly Lloyd George and those who would dismiss him as an unprincipled adventurer were few. Lloyd George had had a career as chequered as that of Chamberlain and as bizarre as that of Beaconsfield. Some had charged him with verbal inconsistency, but in a politics there must be a large amount that is fluid and immutable; and Lloyd George was no more open to that particular charge than any other statesman.

The speaker traced through the "Welsh Wizard's" career his unswerving campaign against tyranny and oppression in any guise. He recounted his first case, which led to his entry into Parliament. In Parliament he took up the cause of the masses with a magnificent enthusiasm.

Lloyd George had opposed the Boer War as an attempt of a great nation to oppress a small one, declared Mr. Jones. He waged a strenuous campaign for this principle, and took not only his political future, but his physical safety (as the Birmingham affair showed) in his hands. Eight years after the South African War, he was Chancellor of the Exchequer. Here he introduced the "People's Budget," and as an outcome of its rejection by the Lords, he was instrumental in breaking for ever the "absolute veto" of the Upper House.

When the Great War broke out Lloyd George threw himself into it with might and main. After two years he was called by the voice of the civilized world to take charge, and the glorious victory and present peace are evidences of his great work. "Now he is the head of a great Coalition," continued Mr. Jones, "united against a common danger, scarcely less real than the danger of 1914.

HOW DOES SOAP CLEANSE?

By the action of fats in the soap, which free the dirt from the clothes.

WHAT DOES THE VALUE OF SOAP LARGELY DEPEND UPON?

On the amount of pure oils and fats which it contains.

WHAT IS THEREFORE, THE BEST AND MOST ECONOMICAL SOAP?

That which contains nothing but pure oils and fats; for in buying impure second-grade soaps, one pays for substances which are not only of no value for washing, but are actually injurious to the clothes.

Ready to Resume Search After Truth

Reply of German Professors and Reichstag Members.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—German university professors and members of the Reichstag have drawn up a reply to the appeal for reestablishment of the "friendly intercourse" which existed before the war, which the professors and doctors of Oxford University recently addressed to Professors of Arts and Sciences and members of universities and learned societies in Germany and Austria.

"Science knows only one aim—the search after truth, and it requires for the performance of this task the common labor of all, regardless of national boundaries," says the German reply. "The war has interrupted this joint labor and dissolved many personalities. We are ready to resume these conditions and by common labor to obliterate everytaining of defensive spoken or written, in both count, as."

CANADA - WEST INDIES AGREEMENT PLEASES JAMAICA

The first impression created here by the publication of the trade agreement between Canada and the British West Indies is undoubtedly generally favorable, says the special Jamaican correspondent of the Empire Mail. It is considered that Canada has made a fair and even a generous offer by giving a preference to articles of export so important to this island as our sugar, cocoa-beans, coconuts, and rum. Lime juice and arrowroot are of little importance here, and still less so are onions, one of the staples of the Bermudas. The island has a supply of grape fruit, which are also on the preference list.

This list, it is generally agreed, is very well chosen, and there is satisfaction at Canada agreeing to limit her import duties on any other articles grown or manufactured here, outside the preference list, to a rate which is not to exceed 50 percent, of the import duty levied on similar articles from other places in the British West Indies. On our side we are left free to impose a duty up to 75 per cent, on articles from Canada in a corresponding group. The one shilling preference on each bag of flour from Canada is agreed to as the most effective and handy method of preference, and as likely to stimulate the trade in flour with Canada, which has been growing during recent years. It is not considered likely, however, that this reduction of duty will reach the consumer. The proposed fortnightly steamship service from Canada via the Bahamas and British Honduras is welcomed, but would excite more sanguine expectations if larger boats than those of 3,500 tons and boats swifter than a speed of 10 knots were to be provided.

Taken all in all, and writing immediately after the publication locally of the agreement, the results of the Ottawa Conference seem so far to please public opinion here.

Expected Opposition in Council
The agreement cannot be confirmed until the Legislative Council meets. It is not unlikely that between the present time and that month the interests that are hostile to trade with Canada will have organized some opposition. The Council consists of five ex-officio members, ten members nominated by the Governor, and fourteen members elected on a low franchise. The ex-officio members will, of course, support the Government policy, which will be to accept the agreement. The nominated members will generally do the same, though they can abstain from voting should they differ decidedly with the Government view.

Of the elected members, the Hon. J. H. Phillips, a prominent business man, was one of the technical advisers to the delegate sent by Jamaica to Ottawa. Major E. T. Dixon has spoken in terms generally favorable to increasing the connection with Canada. The Rev. W. T. Graham, who represents St. Mary, one of the leading banana parishes, is a whole-hearted advocate of better trade relationships with Canada. Among the remaining members the forecast is that the majority, although some of them may criticise points to the agreement, will not seriously attempt to secure its rejection. Public opinion generally, which is not in favor of any political union with Canada, and which to some extent is even prejudiced against that union, has awakened more and more to the wisdom of building up business to a larger extent, and on better terms, between the Dominion and this island.

Jamaica and United States.
In voting, the members of the Council will probably have this in mind, even where, as is suspected to be the case in one or two instances, there is a specially kindly feeling towards U. S. A., trade interests with Jamaica. One member during the recent session of the Council did not hesitate to declare that whatever this island chose to say, and whatever its patriotism, in business it belonged to the United States, a statement, however, which elicited cries of dissent.

However pleasing it may be to certain small elements of the population to coquette with the idea of the islands passing over, wholly by annexation to the United States, such a desire would not hold finally with any appreciable number, even of those who are keen on having the advantages of trade with the Republic. The long established habit of fearing American retaliation if our tariff was given a preferential aspect towards other countries, was lightened when Great Britain, a year ago, began the preference to sugar and other staples of the island.

It is not lost sight of, however, that if a Labor Government came into power in Great Britain, the preference might be withdrawn, and, therefore the advantage is seen of a preferential agreement with the growing Canadian market as otherwise, assuming the failure of the preference from Britain, the island would be driven into the arms of America. With the latter country there is a real desire to be on friendly terms, and to do business mutually advantageous, but there is the perceptibly growing distaste of being placed in a position of trade slavery to the big foreign nations.

This is partly because Jamaica is awakened to a sense of the fact that she is a part of the Empire, and holds a somewhat strategic position on the Empire line, from Britain to Canada and on through the Panama Canal across the Pacific to Australia.

If promptness, courtesy, first-class work and right prices will get your trade then we are in the for it. Union Publishing Company, Ltd.

MOTION PICTURE STANDARDS

(Stratford Herald.)

The Ottawa Journal takes a rather singular view of the moving picture question. It asks Mr. Justice Latchford if he would apply a different code of ethics to moving pictures than he would to many of the plays written by Shakespeare. No doubt the learned judge would reply in the affirmative. And he would be right. The murder, infidelity and intrigues of Shakespeare's plays are not flaunted nightly before the eyes of impressionable children, many just out of the nursery as are the risqué situations, the brandishing of firearms and the depiction of filial disobedience reflected on many of the films that pass the censor at Toronto. Thinking men often express the opinion that certain films should never be allowed to be exhibited to the gaze of the public and more especially of children.

WORLD OVER.

A terrible fire caused great destruction to the docks at Rio De Janeiro recently. The damage is estimated at over $15,000,000.

A Jewish colony has been discovered in the centre of China. They have adopted Chinese customs, but have conserved a particular language. They immigrated to China even before the epoch of the Kings of Israel.

A fiery Spaniard named Heller recently ran his car at full speed into one advancing in the opposite direction at Malaga, Spain. The other car was wrecked, and the owner-driver, Senor Trivine, was badly injured, as was Heller himself. Both men are now in hospital. Heller is agent for a firm of motor car manufacturers, and some time ago he sold a machine to Trivine. The latter was disappointed and sold it. This infuriated Heller, who considered he had suffered a personal affront, and when he saw Trivine driving a new car of some other make, a wild desire to wreck it seized him.

A mysterious tragedy occurred on the French Channel coast recently. The bodies of three women and a man were washed up on the beach at Flamanville. The women appear to be about 25 years of age, and one of them was wearing a watch and American jewellery. The man seemed about 55. He was dressed in black, and carried a large amount of money on him. The only explanation is that they were swept off the pier by wind, or some curious accident while taking a walk.

A rat held up traffic in one section of the boulevards, near the Opera, Paris, the other day. The creature ran out in the broad daylight into the middle of the thoroughfare and darted hither and thither among the traffic. Immediately a number of sporting young men gave chase. So ardent were they that to avoid running them down, motor omnibuses, cabs, taxis and everything on wheels came to a sudden stop. The rat soon perished under a rain of blows from the young men's walking canes.

A poisoned needle, one of the mysterious "poisoned needles" with which Bolshevik agents caused a reign of terror in Budapest, has been found in a street car recently. It is a modern hypodermic syringe, but has the appearance of a small fountain pen, probably to escape suspicion. The needle is extremely small and makes a puncture so minute that it is scarcely felt. The poison found in the pen is yellowish and unknown to chemists, who are trying to analyze it. Inside the syringe is the trade mark in red, "Made in Russia."

An ex-captain of the Austrian army has been arrested in Constance, Switzerland, on a charge of murder, for shooting and killing his sister at her own request. The sister suffered a fracture of her spine in an Alpine accident last year, knew her illness to be incurable and had repeatedly begged the physicians of a sanatorium of which she was a patient to relieve her of her sufferings by an overdose of morphine. The ex-captain delivered an ultimatum to the physicians that if they failed to comply with his sister's wishes within five days he would shoot her himself. This he did with the full consent of the girl.

A new language is said to be the cause of the delay in the negotiations at the Soviet-Polish armistice conference. After the Russian and Polish text of the terms had been read the reading of the document in Ukrainian followed. When M. Manulski began, a smile passed around the hall, as virtually all the delay had been ascribed to the preparation of the Ukrainian text, and there has been much joking at Riga on the subject of whether there really is a Ukrainian language. No dictionary or grammar existed until the Germans published them after discovering the necessity of establishing the Ukrainians as a separate nation to upset the Bolsheviks.

FRANCE'S WAR DEAD TO BE BURIED IN PERMANENT
MILITARY CEMETERIES

PARIS, Oct. 22.—France's 1,000,000 war-dead are soon to be transferred to permanent military cemeteries or re-interred in private burying grounds at the option of relatives.

It may be months before the work is even well under way, but the start is to be made soon, under authority of laws passed at the last session of parliament, and now made effective decrees.

A separate monument of a design not yet adopted, will be put at the head of each grave, and the care of the military grounds will devolve upon the Government in perpetuity.

Sanitation and lack of transportation has delayed the assembling of the bodies, but it has been decided that by careful planning the work may now be done without danger to health or to industry.

BRITAIN OVERSEAS

A house collapsed in Rangom, India, badly injuring six Indians, recently. The house was a two storied wooden building.

An Aeroplane manned by Captain Sturt and Sergeant Daigee, which left Melbourne in search of a schooner which had disappeared off the coast of Tasmania, is now itself missing.

A treasure was found in a sleeping car of a train from Loff to Vienna. The find was foreign securities valued at $500,000 which had been hidden probably by thieves in ventilators.

A platinum kettle covered with gold has been stolen from a chemical factory in Westphalia. The kettle was worth about $500,000. It is believed that the thief has melted it down and sold portions in Berlin.

A Cobra under his pillow woke up the Baptist pastor at Taulkington, India. The deadly poisonous snake was killed before any danger was done. During the recent floods in the district large numbers of snakes of every description took refuge from the waters in the houses of the village.

"Times have changed," said the Mikado of Japan, with reference to two automobiles ordered for him from England at a cost of $75,000. Lord Curzon is personally requesting that the Mikado's order be given priority. Hereofore Japanese rulers have not used automobiles.

A cocktail bar is the latest equipment for a motor-car. The car in question is the largest touring car in the world. It was built for a Belgian millionaire to take a party big game shooting in Africa, and is now owned by an ex-naval officer, who is to use it for battlefield tourists in France. The car can seat 15 people, and might can sleep on spring beds with every comfort.

Supplying liquor to colored persons in the Transvaal is an offense for which a person is liable, for the first offence, to six months imprisonment with hard labor. A message from Johannesburg, says that the Indian medical man who attended the Marquis of Queensbury in his last illness has been sentenced on a charge of issuing over 6,000 certificates to colored people, with a view to their obtaining liquor, since January.

A gruesome confession was made by native grave despoilers at Ermelo, Transvaal District, South Africa, recently. It is alleged to be the work of witch doctors. In one case the body of a European, whose name was removed from the grave and mutilated, and in another the body of a native boy was removed. The natives when making the confession took the police to a farm, where the woman's body was found buried in the mud.

SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS

By the express Thursday last Head Const. Peet arrived here with a prisoner from Bay St. George who was sentenced by Magistrate MacDonnell to 6 months. The man, like a good many more in the world, wanted to have a good time at the expense of and on the industry of others. Consequently in this fine agricultural district he let himself loose and stole all the produce, turnips, potatoes, cabbage, and everything he could lay hands on. His undoing came when he began to get away with live stock, sheep, etc. Nightly 'scoffs' were held in the house where he resided when the police put a stop to the proceedings. Head Const. Peet who brought the man here is in excellent health and all the members of the force and his old time friends are delighted to see him.

S. S. "DIGBY" ARRIVES

Sails for Liverpool to-day.

The S.S. Digby, 74 hours from Halifax, arrived in port yesterday at 1.30 o'clock after one of the worst trips in the ship's experience. The Digby met with strong south east gales with heavy seas all through the trip, and was for 17 hours "hove to," being unable to make any progress against the storm which was raging. The ship came through without damage. She brought a small freight and the following passengers:—Miss Helen Balfour, A. Ferron, J. H. Monroe, M. Colford and Miss F. M. Power.

The ship sails again for Liverpool at 2 o'clock this afternoon taking about 2000 casks of codfish and the following passengers:—J. F. Parker, A. Bruce, J. Baskerville, Miss O. Hutchings, Miss M. Frew, Rev. E. E. Tarrant, Mrs. E. S. Tarrant, Mr. J. C. Baird, W. A. Munn, Mrs. J. C. Baird, Miss D. Baird, Mrs. J. Duff, Master Duff, P. E. Outerbridge, C. C. and Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Geo. Ayre, Miss Joan Ayre, Miss B. Ayre, Master D. Ayre, Mrs. C. T. Richards, Mrs. H. V. Richards and infant, Mrs. S. C. Piercey, W. and Mrs. McNeil and infant, Mrs. V. Noseworthy, Mrs. R. B. Martin, Miss E. Martin, and R. Crawford.

TRAMP SHORT OF COAL

The S.S. Karass, 20 days from Christiania, bound to New York, arrived in port yesterday morning short of coal. The steamer experienced a succession of head winds with heavy seas all through the passage. The Karass has a cargo of pulpwood for New York and on arrival here she was supplied with 40 tons of coal by the Furness Withy Co. and sailed for Sydney during the evening where she will have her bunkers replenished.

SONGS OF THE SEA

In connection with the regular service at Cochrane Street Centennial Church on Sunday evening, there will be held a song service on the lines of those which were so much in favour prior to the burning of the old church. The subject on Sunday evening will be "Songs of the Sea," and a number of well-known hymns of this character will be sung by the entire congregation. The Pastor, Rev. Dr. Bond, will take "The Sea" as the subject for his sermon. The full order of service will be printed with words of the various hymns. Ushers will be in attendance, and all visiting friends will be welcomed. Service commences at 8.30 p.m.

Building "forts" in a sand pit at Minneapolis Minn., three boys were suffocated when the "forts" caved in. One of the boys climbed to the top of the pit and attempted to pull out a root of a tree, with the result that several tons of sand were loosened, burying all the Passersby managed to dig out two of the lads in time to save their lives, but the others perished.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' COLLECTION

Dear Sir,—I had the pleasure of spending two of the most happy days of my life in celebrating "Thanksgiving Day," so dear to the American heart, in the domain of Uncle Sam. The first was in New Hampshire and the second with relatives in the "Hub." On both occasions, I am happy to say I never experienced such cordiality, such camaraderie, such bonhomie, and when I reminded old classmates of the Christian Brothers Schools that the following Sunday, or there about, the annual collection for the Christian Brothers would be taken up, many an eye glistened and "the boys" came forward with generous donations. And I feel that this year will be no exception, and the the donations of the boys of St. Patrick's and Holy Cross Schools who have gravitated to the United States, will be no inconsiderable item in the collection. And if the boys in the U. S. celebrate the last Thursday in November, may not we here observe the last Sunday in the same month by giving the Christian Brothers an offering as generous as it is so well deserved. They merit our thanks and if the Yanks call the Thursday "Thanksgiving Day" why not we here call the last Sunday in November "Thanksgiving Sunday." 'Tis worth the trial and should succeed.

Yours,

OLD PUPIL.

NOTE OF THANKS

The Executive Committee of the Jenson Camp wish to thank Miss McKay and Mrs. McKee for the following donation of the W.P.A. from Waterford Hall:—4 bed jackets, 6 prs. pyjamas, 4 dressing gowns, 5 afghans, 12 pillows, 12 blankets, 2 mattresses. They also wish to thank Mr. Gus Lester for 2 brs. of potatoes, and Mr. Andrew Carnell for the splendid gift of a Columbia Grafonola and 18 records. This is the second gift of the kind for which the lads at the Camp thank Mr. Carnell. The first which he gave nearly four years was worn out having given a continuous and unlimited amount of pleasure.

They also thank Mr. Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. King and concert party for the delightful concert and supper they gave at the camp on Wednesday the 17th, which pleasure they are again giving them to-night, Friday.

OLD MAN MEETS SERIOUS ACCIDENT

While at work this morning in the Reid Coy's works off Water St. Mr. John Rumsey of Springdale Street, a man nearly 70 years old, suffered a very painful and serious accident. Mr. Rumsey is a pattern maker and while at work at the planer, the board he handled slipped, and one of his hands was caught with the knives. Beside being terribly cut he lost 3 fingers and suffered also severely from shock. He was taken to Dr. Carnell's surgery and looked after, after which he was sent to hospital.

"WIRELESS" BOYS

Messrs. Richard Ryan and William Scanlan, wireless boys who have been flashing the news of the northern fringe of civilization from stations on the Labrador coast all summer, arrived by the Sagona last night. They are glad to be relieved for a time from their lonesome vigils.

MUSICAL TREAT

During the Next Two Weeks.

Columbus Ladies Association.

The Columbus Ladies Association have entered into an arrangement with the management of the Majestic Theatre whereby a series of specially high class musical entertainments will be afforded the music loving public. A number of our leading artists have generously tendered their services, and every evening during the next fortnight patrons of the Majestic will be delighted with special numbers contributed by these ladies and gentlemen in addition to the usual moving picture programme.

The following is the list for the first week, commencing on Monday next:—

Monday—Mrs. Dr. John Murphy, Violin Solo.
Tuesday—Full String Band.
Wednesday—Trio from "The Mikado." Messrs. P. Jardine, W. Wallace and J. Hickey.
Thursday—Mr. A. Bulley, French Horn.
Friday—Mrs. C. J. Cahill.
Saturday—Mrs. F. J. King.

It is safe to predict that the Majestic Theatre will be packed to capacity during each evening for the next two weeks, with such a delightful musical 'Menu' in anticipation.

POLICE COURT

A 35 year old woman out of employment applied at the Police Station early this morning for shelter. She was discharged and left the court room to find a place.

Four boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years, were before His Honor charged with loose and disorderly conduct. These hooligans congregated lightly near a grocery store on Monrope Street. They use all kinds of profane language, throw refuse into the shops and doorways, and otherwise misbehave themselves. They were each fined $5.00 or 10 days and given a lecture from the bench which should have a salutary effect.

A GOOD PLAN

To Sister Unions:

At the regular meeting of the Newfoundland Industrial Workers' Association held in their rooms, the corner of Springdale and Water Streets, on Friday night, Nov. 12th, the question of closing down of the shoe factories came up for consideration, and as we feel that all Union men are brothers, the Association moved to give itself placed on record as being in sympathy with those who are out of employment, through the action of said factories, and further, that a set of Resolutions be prepared by the Executive, calling on all Union Men to patronize and buy local made shoes, so as to terminate this lay off as speedily as possible. The Resolutions follow:

That WHEREAS the Shoe Factories are closed for an indefinite period in this City causing a lot of Union Men to be out of Employment;

AND WHEREAS living expenses are enormously high, and a man wants every hour to be able to support his family;

AND WHEREAS it is a fact if Union Men and their families would buy Local Made shoes instead of the Imported Article this stopping of work would not have happened;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Union Men of St. John's with their families pledge themselves to buy nothing but Local Made Shoes, provided they are as cheap as the imported article, so as to relieve the congestion as speedily as possible.
